DAY 3
THURSDAY · FEBRUARY 18, 2027

Thursday, Jaipur – The Pink City

Tour Amber Fort—with elephant ride—plus Hawa Mahal, City Palace, Jantar Mantar, and local markets; lunch at Amber's 1135 AD restaurant.

Jaipur

Jaipur's stunning hilltop forts and royal palaces on its desert landscape form an exotic backdrop to Rajasthan's romantic capital. Part of the golden triangle along with Delhi and Agra, Jaipur is one of the most popular tourist destinations in India. Its founder, Maharaja Jai Singh II, was a lover of mathematics and science, and designed the city on principles of Indian astrology and the Hindu concept of the universe. Traditionally, the colour of hospitality in Rajasthan, Jaipur, was awash in pink to welcome Prince Albert in 1856. Since then, it's become customary to pink-wash the city's buildings, thus popularizing Jaipur as the 'Pink City'. Its old markets are famous for traditional crafts: hand-dyed and embroidered textiles, jewelry, precious stones, and metals. Chaotic and congested at times, Jaipur can easily distract you with glimpses of its regal past, brilliant bazaars, and some of the most colourfully dressed people on the planet.

For many people, Jaipur is the gateway to the rest of Rajasthan. But it's worth spending some time in this fascinating city. Just stand on the street corner and take in the old and the new, the figuratively medieval way of life clashing with the modern, where one might see a flashy new car driving down the street next to a man riding an elephant or a camel; where monkeys play on rooftops below a snake charmer who sits in front of a computer shop or an elegant eatery. Besides the intriguing atmosphere of Jaipur's streets, there is plenty to see here, including ostentatious forts, huge Hindu temples, ornate palaces, and centuries-old miniarettes reaching for the heavens.

DAY 4
FRIDAY · FEBRUARY 19, 2027

Friday, Sawai Madhopur & Chittorgarh

Early safari at Ranthambore National Park for tiger sightings, followed by a visit to the mighty Chittorgarh Fort.

Ranthambore - Sawai Madhopur & Chittorgarh

Area Overview

Ranthambhore and Chittorgarh together offer a captivating blend of wilderness and history. Ranthambhore National Park, once a royal hunting ground, is now one of India's most celebrated tiger reserves, where ancient ruins rise dramatically from forested hills and lakes shimmer beneath the open sky. Here, thrilling safaris offer chances to spot majestic tigers, leopards, and diverse birdlife. Chittorgarh, home to India's largest fort, stands as a powerful symbol of Rajput valor and sacrifice. Its towering ramparts, palaces, and temples narrate legendary tales of heroism, romance, and resistance, creating an unforgettable cultural experience.

DAY 5
SATURDAY · FEBRUARY 20, 2027

Saturday, Udaipur – City of Lakes

Explore Saheliyon ki Bari, City Palace, and Crystal Gallery; enjoy views of the iconic Lake Pichola and its palaces.

Udaipur

Udaipur is often considered the most romantic city in Rajasthan—less hectic than Jaipur and less commanding than Jodhpur, but full of quiet charm. Known as the Land of Mewar, it is set against the backdrop of the rolling Aravalli Hills and dotted with serene lakes and elegant palaces. Life moves at a gentler pace here, especially in the Old City, where narrow lanes invite leisurely exploration. With fewer crowds and relatively light traffic, the city retains an old-world charm. Morning rituals, temple worship, and the reserved curiosity of local women all reflect traditions that continue to shape daily life in this graceful town.

DAY 6
SUNDAY · FEBRUARY 21, 2027

Sunday, Jaisalmer – Desert Jewel

Visit the imposing sandstone fort and historic havelis; camel ride across Sam dunes followed by cultural performances.

Jaisalmer

The second oldest of Rajasthan and perhaps the only remaining living fort in the world, the golden sandstone Jaisalmer Fort rises out of the Thar Desert and must have been a majestic, and very welcome site for the caravans of the ancient trade routes. Venture deep into the desert and you will discover grazing grounds and oases and small temples, remnants of the bygone, almost mythical times of the caravan trade routes. The roads (which are well maintained by the Indian Army) lead you out to the sand dunes past villages whose harsh existence in the extreme temperatures of the desert are hard to imagine.

There is a stark beauty to this region and the colours are incredible as are the skies at night. The recent re-introduction of flights into Jaisalmer mean that accessibility is now much easier than before.

DAY 7
MONDAY · FEBRUARY 22, 2027

Monday , Jodhpur – Blue City

Discover Mehrangarh Fort, Jaswant Thada, and royal palaces; wander through vibrant bazaars before relaxing on board.

Jodhpur

A City of Majesty, Markets, and Desert Mystique

Dominating the skyline, the mighty Mehrangarh Fort is the crown jewel of Jodhpur—a vast sandstone citadel that lords over the Blue City with timeless grandeur. While the fort is often the primary draw, it's also the gateway to a host of immersive experiences. For thrill-seekers, ziplining over the fort's ramparts offers a breathtaking perspective. Shoppers can lose themselves in the vibrant chaos of the Clock Tower Market, honing their bargaining skills among stalls brimming with spices, textiles, and handicrafts. Nature lovers will find solace in the dramatic landscapes of the Rao Jodha Desert Rock Park, a remarkable conservation initiative that brings the desert ecology to life.

Beyond the city, safaris into the Thar reveal sightings of blackbuck, chinkara, and Nilgai, and encounters with the Bishnoi community—guardians of wildlife and pioneers of India's conservation ethic. Jodhpur, with its rich tapestry of history, culture, and nature, is far more than just its iconic fort.

DAY 8
TUESDAY · FEBRUARY 23, 2027

Tuesday, Bharatpur & Agra

Birdwatching at Keoladeo Bird Sanctuary, then marvel at the Taj Mahal and Agra Fort—final royal highlights before the return to Delhi.

Agra

Agra, synonymous with the Taj Mahal, is often cited as the world's most beautiful building and is a must-visit destination for most people traveling to India for the first time. However, the city houses many other extraordinary monuments and offers a fascinating history and an array of experiences beyond its main attraction. From the might of the Mughals with their mausoleums and the impressive Agra Fort to the cantonment area of the British with its post office, university, churches, and cathedrals, Agra has much to offer.

Additionally, the city features village walks and an elephant rescue center, making it more than just a one-night destination if you have time.
